

28
SEP

Stockholm University,
DeGeersalen, 9.30.

Justice and Home Affairs in Europe and Beyond

The study of internal security cooperation in Europe has turned towards approaches of international political sociology. What are the promises and prospects of this development for the study of EU cooperation and beyond? Professor Didier Bigo will share his discipline-leading approach to conceptualizing cooperation in this area as the interaction of 'transnational guilds of (in)security'.

Didier Bigo is founder of the journal International Political Sociology, leading scholar within the Paris School of security studies and Professor at Sciences Po, Paris and King's College, London.

For more info, contact: markus.lyckman@ekohist.su.se

FREE ADMISSION ▶ Time and place: September 28th, 09.30 - 10.30, DeGeersalen, Y-house of the Geosciences building.

<http://www.ekohist.su.se/sis>

Nordic Centre of Excellence for Security Technologies and Societal Values (NordSTEVA)
Stockholm University Graduate School of International Studies (SIS)

